

Learn from Your Own Cases and Create a Shared Direction|company

Take part in a facilitated workshop where you set aside dedicated time to understand and learn from your own cases.

Do you have deviations, SOPs, audit findings, collaboration challenges or other production-related cases that would benefit from dedicated time together to gain insight and capture important learning?

About the course

Read about the benefits of a company course

This workshop provides you with a structured framework and an experienced facilitator who helps you explore your cases together.

You choose the cases you want to work with. These can be situations where something went wrong, something worked well, or something you would like to standardise across teams.

Our role is to provide structure, ensure progress and make sure that all relevant perspectives are brought into the discussion.

You send us the topics and cases in advance so that we can plan a relevant and structured workshop.

The workshop strengthens your professional capabilities by helping you identify patterns, causes and potential improvements. At the same time, it strengthens teamwork.

You get dedicated time to listen to each other, understand each other's roles and look at the case from different perspectives. This creates better dialogue, greater trust and a stronger shared responsibility for quality in everyday work.

You leave the workshop with shared insights, concrete agreements and a stronger foundation for improving quality, compliance and collaboration.

Target group

The workshop is aimed at teams within the life science industry that want to create shared insight and learning from their own cases across

Sign-up

Course

Learn from Your Own Cases and Create a Shared Direction|company

Format

Half-day in-company course

Choose date and sign up

Hillerød 31. dec – 31. dec. 2040

functions.

It is suitable for both experienced employees and mixed groups.

What you gain

Benefits for employees

- You learn to distinguish between facts, assumptions, causes and learning when analysing a case.
- You can contribute to shared learning across roles and functions.
- You can translate the workshop's learning into concrete next steps in your own practice.

Benefits for the organisation

- Employees get dedicated time and space to learn from their own cases in a busy working environment, such as deviations, SOPs, audits or production processes.
- Employees strengthen shared understanding, dialogue and a common language around quality across functions such as Production, QA, QC and Management.
- Employees translate learning into concrete improvements in daily practice.

Course program

- Brief introduction focusing on objectives, roles and ground rules for constructive dialogue.
- Facilitated case work.
- Cross-functional dialogue, bringing multiple perspectives into the discussion.
- Summary of key insights and agreement on next steps following the workshop.

The workshop is facilitated by a consultant from Pharmakon.

The company provides the cases and relevant materials.